COLUMBIA DOCKED.

The Racer Looks Like a Thoroughbred Beside the Shamrock.

New York, Sept. 29.—The Columbia was docked at the Brooklyn navy-yard this afternoon. She will probably remain there until Monday, the day preceding the first of the series of races for the America's cup, during which period every art known to the builder, rigger and sailmaker will be employed in setting the craft in the best possible trim for the contest.

The contrast between the lines of the Shamrock and Columbia are very marked. In the former one can see a big, bulky craft, dependent upon a greater spread of canvas for superiority in speed, while the latter has the thoroughbred appearance that comes with finer lines and a more slender hull. The Columbia was viewed from all sides by admiring hundreds, most of whom had also seen the Shamrock in the drydock, and ninety-nine out of every hundred were of opinion that the American boat was far more a racer in looks than the cup-challenger. Even the English and Scotch writers sent across to report the cup races admitted that the Columbia was the better-looking craft of the two, but they hope for heavy breezes, so that the Shamrock can make her best showing.

When the keel touched on the blocks they were at a depth of twenty feet and a few inches of water. When the water had receded so far that the Columbia's hull below the waterline was exposed to view it was seen that the action of the water had corroded the bronze plates so much that she appeared to be painted green. The blue plates were remarkably bright, however, showing what friction would do when the vessel is under sail.

The crew was set at work scrubbing the hull with brooms and brushes, but it was of little effect in removing the corrosion. A solution of acid and water was tried in one spot, and worked very effectively. The hull was as smooth as glass, despite the coating of green. Electric burnishers will be set to work tomorrow, so that when the Columbia goes out of the drydock her underbody will gladden like gold. The white topsides were sandedpapered, and a fresh coat of paint will be put on. The Columbia looks like a big fin keel. Her lead is thickest and deepest well forward on the keel, so as to be directly under the centre of effort, while on the Shamrock the lead is beamish amidships. The American boat is cut away forward much more than the Irish cutter, and has a longer overhang aft. The former's lead keel is about seven feet shorter at the bottom than the latter's, which accounts for her superior quickness in stays. The blue plates on the Columbia do not look as smooth as the Shamrock's, but the rest of the hull is as good a piece of workmanship as that of the latter.

Captain Philip Ellsworth, who designed the Atlantic, saw the Columbia. He said he believed the Columbia would defeat the Shamrock, but he thought that the Irish craft would prove as good as the American at every point of sailing except in windward work. Said he: "Build a boat with a hull like the Columbia's, put on a keel like the old America's, cut down the sail, and I'll bet she would defeat the Columbia hands down."

THE FOX HUNTERS.

They Have a Great Time and Bring the Fur.

Messrs Hudson and A. L. Brooks, of the fox-hunting crowd, returned yesterday from the camp and the chasing grounds at Manchester. The rest of the party arrived this afternoon.

They all, with one accord, report the best week of fun they have ever had. The weather was fine all the time and chases were plentiful and not difficult to obtain.

Yesterday morning, perhaps, was witnessed as fine sport as was ever seen in these parts. Early in the morning the pack of thirty-five hounds picked up a hot trail and soon the chase was on in full blast, every dog doing its duty in the musical performance, and for two hours it kept hot, when an old fox was captured. Later a younger one was bagged and the hunters thought they had never had more fun. It is not reported how many were caught during the week.

THE DISCUSSION HAS ENDED

On the Part of the Boers Who Prepare to Fight.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
Cape Town, Sept. 30.—The Boer office at Pretoria is working night and day. The commanding is proceeding actively. The road, in order to obtain the support of many of the Outlanders has decided that those who aid the burghers will receive the franchise. Immediately after martial law is proclaimed, all outside postal communication will be stopped.

The Transvaal is concentrating her artillery on the Natal border. The reserve artillery has been dispatched to Standerton and Wakkerstroom, and also to Rustenburg, which will probably form the base of the attack. At Bechuanaland, in the direction of Mafeking, where the British counterforce is assembling, fortifications are being raised.

Occupants of trains from the Transvaal arriving at Ladysmith report that the Boers are concentrating on the frontier, and that they were insulted by them. One Boer attacked a passenger without provocation.

Washington, Sept. 30.—This morning at 9:15 Ex-Postmaster Willett fell through the elevator shaft from the fourth floor in the new postoffice and was instantly killed.

PROBABLY FATAL SHOOTING.

Ben Wilkerson Shot Ben Jennings Last Night.

HAPPENED AT A WHISKEY STILL.

About Two Miles From Town—Both Parties Were Drinking—The Wounded Man Still Alive.

What may terminate in another murder trial for Guilford county, occurred last night about nine o'clock at Wilkerson's whiskey distillery about two miles southwest of this city.

It seems that Ben Wilkerson, the proprietor of the distillery, and Ben Jennings, who worked about the place, were both drinking. They were in the barn, or store house part of the establishment, and Jennings was over behind the counter drawing some whiskey from a barrel, when Wilkerson came in and told Jennings to draw him a pint. Jennings, it is claimed in one report, began to remonstrate with Wilkerson and told him he had had two or three already. Hot words ensued and the lie was passed recklessly, whereupon Jennings started toward Wilkerson, and the latter claims, had a razor in his hand.

He (Jennings) came out from behind the counter and Wilkerson knocked him down. Jennings claims that when he attempted to rise Wilkerson pushed him back and shot him while down. He denies that he attempted to assault Wilkerson with a razor, but admits that he had a razor in his pocket. Said he had shaved in the afternoon and put the razor in its case and carried it in his pocket as was his custom.

Wilkerson tells a different tale. He says that when he knocked Jennings down, he went into another room and got his pistol and came back. That on his return Jennings had risen and again approached him with his razor drawn. Then he shot him in self defense.

After the shooting Wilkerson helped carry the wounded man to his room near by in the house of a Mr. Heith, with whom he was boarding, placed him on the bed and sent for a doctor. Drs. Turner and Scott attended him. Wilkerson was today arrested on a warrant sworn out before Squire Pritchett, and will be given a preliminary hearing.

There was only one witness to the shooting so far as is known, and that is Mr. Heith, a brother-in-law of Jennings, and the above statements may be considerably altered when the evidence is taken officially. It has been difficult to get at all the facts in detail.

THE WOUNDED MAN'S CONDITION.

As above stated the wounded man was removed to his boarding place, and is in a most critical condition. The ball entered between the sixth and seventh ribs on the right side and ranging downward, lodged in the abdomen. The chances are against his recovery. The case has been, we are informed, turned over to the county physician. Jennings is a brother of Mrs. Ryan, who was so brutally murdered by her husband here nearly two years ago.

SWELL MATRIMONIAL AFFAIR.

Approaching Nuptials of Mr. Brown and Miss Burton.

Mr. F. M. Brown, the handsome, genial and popular soloist of the Baptist church choir, left last night for Hooisick, N. Y., where he is to visit his relatives and friends and where he is to stand up as best man at the wedding of his brother, Richard Albert Brown, of Hooisick. The bride-elect, Miss Minnie Burton, is also of Hooisick. The happy event is to take place Wednesday, Oct. 4th, at high noon, and is to be quite a swell affair. Mr. F. M. Brown will return to Greensboro about the 15th of October. Though he has said nothing about more than one wedding it has leaked out that a Mrs. Brown with two children is to return with him from New York.

For Monday Night.

A beautifully draped stage, filled with people dressed in magnificent costumes, the orchestra playing the "Star Spangled Banner," a round of applause as the curtain ascended, was the opening of first part last evening of the performance of the Barlow Minstrels at the Academy. The company succeeded in giving a refined and very enjoyable entertainment. The orchestra music was well rendered. Harry Ward, Lew Baldwin, Fred Russell and Hugh Cannon were the principal comedians and their work was the cause of much laughter. Noticeable among the specialties are Harry Ward, the cleverest monologist of the century, Coburn & Baldwin, up to date musicians, Willie Hale, globe and club expert, and the marvelous Zella. The audience was liberal with its applause—Augusta, Ga. Star.

The above is only one of the many excellent press notices received by the Barlow Minstrels, which aggregation will hold the boards at the Academy of Music Monday night, Oct. 2.

SPLENDOR OF THE LAND PARADE.

Seven Hours in Passing—Admiral Schley Receives Applause Second Only to Dewey.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Sept. 30.—Dewey continues. He arrived at the city hall at a quarter before nine. The ceremony was all over before the singing children arrived. The cup was presented amid the loud cheers of the immense multitude. The admiral, with his suite then took a boat at the foot of Warren street for One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.

A remarkable feature of the affair was the ovation paid to Rear Admiral Schley. Cheers resounded for him through the park in greater volume than for anybody except Dewey. Sampson received none.

THE LAND PARADE.

New York, Sept. 30.—Immense multitudes gathered at every point from which a glimpse of the land parade in honor of Admiral Dewey could be obtained today.

The magnificent parade started at One Hundred and Twenty-second street at Riverside Drive promptly at eleven headed by Gen. Roosevelt and the Olympia's Jackies led the procession. A storm of applause greeted their every footstep, which was taken in exact time. The cheers never stopped but merged into still grander acclaim when the great admiral was seen in a carriage with the mayor. The roar sprang along for eight miles as millions in succession caught sight of the foremost man of the world. Admiral Dewey bore it all modestly, bowing with deprecatory mien. After the admiral came the naval admirals and captains in carriages. These were followed by governors of several states, each escorted by New York's most prominent citizens. The next were naval battalions of the North Atlantic fleet and seven battalions of a brigade of the United States army. Next, the State of New York sent her citizen soldiers, with Gov. Roosevelt at their head. He was a so compelled to bow constantly.

The Pennsylvania and New Jersey governors headed three regiments and two battalions. Georgia, the first southern state, had a regiment and two battalions. They were cheered to the echo, as were all the southern troops. All marched grandly. Then came Connecticut, Maryland, South Carolina, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Mississippi, Maine, Florida, Texas, and the District of Columbia. An unarmored division ended the procession. There were thirty-four thousand in line, and they were seven hours in passing.

GOOD BREAKS.

New Tobacco Is Going Lively on the Greensboro Market.

Good breaks of new tobacco at the local warehouses today. The weed thus far displayed this season is a good quality, showing care and judgment in curing and handling, and is bringing fair prices. The breaks today were lively, bidding spirited and the farmers who watched the prices go up beyond what they expected were highly pleased.

W. J. Blackburn, of the Fayetteville market, and C. B. Davis, a former auctioneer at this place, but now living in Asheville, were among the interested visitors to the tobacco today.

Just here let us urge on all our people to talk for and pull for our tobacco market. Advertise it, in every possible way. It just simply can't be beat in the state or elsewhere, and all that is necessary to make it a most powerful factor in the growth of the city, and in the city's material prosperity is the united effort on the part of our merchants and business men to encourage and support of our tobacco men in their determination to push Greensboro to the front as a tobacco market—where she belongs.

Let everybody get a move on and let the pull for our tobacco in earnest be one that will be fetching. It means much to advertise it. What made Durham famous while yet a village? Advertisements of Bull Durham smoking tobacco. Advertising, if properly done, is the secret of success in any business. The newspapers are ready—is everybody else?

M'KINLEY'S WESTERN TRIP.

Arrangements Being Made for It Next Week.

WILL BE AN EXTENSIVE VISIT.

Dewey May Accompany Him—The Admiral Not Probable Presidential Timmer.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Trains passing through the city Thursday and Friday carried many troops who will take part in the New York reception to Admiral Dewey. Among the troops were some eight or nine hundred from Georgia, Texas and other far Southern states. The train reaching here at 11:30 Thursday from the south, over the Atlantic Coast Line, carried an extra coach containing one company of fifty troops from various points of North Carolina. The North Carolina "boys" departed for New York city at exactly ten minutes before midnight, and were due to arrive at the metropolis at about 6:30 Friday.

The predictions of the weather bureau are not very encouraging for the big land procession in New York city today. It is said that rain will occur all over the New England and Middle Atlantic coast, and that there may be dangerous gales also. The weather bureau officials are hopeful, however, that the storm will move away from this action before Monday afternoon. Should rain occur Monday night, of course it would put a serious damper upon the feelings of the District people, who have gone to much trouble in getting up the elaborate programme at the national capital.

The local committees were much encouraged Thursday afternoon by receiving word that Governor Lowndes, of Maryland; Governor Atkinson, of West Virginia, and others would be in Washington Monday, after the New York reception. It is also stated that many of the southern troops, including those from North Carolina, have made arrangements to stop over here to take part in the military procession Tuesday afternoon. Among other companies which will be here is the famous Grimes battery, of Portsmouth, Va.

Arrangements are being made for the Western trip of the president next week. An invitation, it is said, will be extended to Admiral Dewey to accompany the party, but it is thought doubtful if he accepts. The admiral is understood to be desirous of spending a short time at his old home in Vermont, and later may go west, but this will probably be some time after the presidential trip.

The visit of the president west will be more extensive than it was thought would be the case some time ago. The improvement in Mrs. McKinley's health, and the demand of the people of the section to see the president are the reasons for this change of the former plans.

Of course if the president invites Admiral Dewey to accompany the party, by inference, it would amount to almost a command, and he could not well decline. It is said, however, at the white house that the president will present it in such a way as to leave the decision entirely with the admiral, so that he may be free to decline or accept, according to his personal preferences.

The talk of the nomination of Dewey for president, by the democratic national convention, and Joe Wheeler for vice-president, is not considered seriously by prominent democrats.

The platform of the democracy, said a leading congressman the other day, will declare against the president's policy in the Philippines and against the war there. To nominate the leading naval official and General Wheeler, who has always been regarded as an expansionist, would be so inconsistent, and the member doubted whether such a ticket could be elected on an anti-expansion platform. "If the platform is to be against the president's policy, it will be necessary," he said, "to nominate candidates in opposition, and not men who indirectly, at least, are connected with the president in the conduct of the war." "Besides," he continued, "nobody knows but what Dewey is a republican and unless he clearly defined his position, the party could not take the risk of naming him for the presidency."

Many Virginians passed through Washington to attend the meeting of the democratic state committee at Richmond, Va. Among them were Chas. P. Janney, of Leesburg. Hon. Thomas A. Ryan, of Richmond, was in the city yesterday morning. While in Washington he is stopping at the Metropolitan.

A New Store Building.

The Telegram is informed today that Messrs. Hutton & Hutton have purchased a lot on the corner of Spring Garden and Litch streets, out toward the State Normal and Industrial College, and will soon begin the erection of a handsome brick store thereon. The Messrs. Hutton are excellent men, and progressive. One of them already has a handsome residence in the city, and the other lives at Climax, where they conduct a mercantile business. We wish them success.

The Thomas G. Plant line of ladies' shoes, made in Boston, and the Cahill line, made in Cincinnati, are among the very best in the land—up-to-date in style, good fitters and having excellent wearing qualities. We sell both lines at $2.50, and fully guarantee every pair sold.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 30, 1899.

THE TELEGRAM.

It is with pardonable pride, we hope, that we call the attention of our readers to the Telegram today in its enlarged form. The paper is now in its third year and this is the third time it has been enlarged.

Beginning in July, 1897, under adverse circumstances, the paper has steadily grown in business and circulation, and we may be allowed to hope, in usefulness. We have tried to faithfully and truthfully record the news, and honestly and fairly to express our opinions on matters in which the public are concerned.

We have met criticism along the way. We have been thankful for that which was favorable, and granted those who differed from us the right to their opinions. We have made no rash promises, and therefore had none to break. We have done the best we could and are grateful for all the help and encouragement received.

Now, here we are at your service in an enlarged form. We have advertising space to sell, and the price is "within the reach of all." We have a large circulation, which is necessary, and a most important item when considering an advertising medium.

In addition to this, we beg to inform our patrons and friends, and those we hope to soon make patrons and friends, that we have today added a large new job press to our equipment, and are better prepared to give good and prompt service in that line.

Now is the time to subscribe, advertise your business and place your orders for fall job work. Come on in and see us.

OF TRINITY AND KILGO.

Dr. J. J. Lafferty, the learned editor of the Richmond Christian Advocate, recently paid a visit to Durham, and in the last issue of his paper writes interestingly of the city, the grand old Methodist institution it has the honor to be the home of, and the college's noble and profoundly adored president, Dr. John C. Kilgo.

We extract the following from Dr. Dr. Lafferty's editorial correspondence:

TRINITY COLLEGE.

Trinity College for the Methodists is at Durham. The best thing in buildings and in teaching tools are here—all modern, up-to-date. The trustees have gathered a corps of superior, progressive and enthusiastic young men as the teaching force. We venture to predict that Trinity will have an endowment sufficient to furnish free tuition to all its students.

KILGO.

The president of the college, Dr. Kilgo, is, as Sidney Smyth said of a certain forceful personage, a steam engine in pants. He is a wiry, muscular, alert party. He is not a sedentary captain. He is rather fond of frequenting the "fighting line" and leading the skirmishers. He has convictions. And he holds to the notion that Methodism has a mission and rights. He has done a great work. It is hard to find a more agreeable companion. His gift of imitating the voice, manner, and style of famous men is equal to that of the late James A. Duncan. And, like him, he is an orator too. He would tickle the midriff of death himself. Happy, thrice happy, the man with gravest responsibility, who can ungrudgingly for the hour and rejuvenate.

The Methodists have erected a choice public building, "Craven Hall," in honor of that stalwart president, Braxton Craven. He had to steer and pump the old college to keep it from harbor every vorage. The edifice is Grecian, a thing of beauty. The notable and new new structures have ornamental utility. The ample grounds were the gift of the "favorite son" of North Carolina, General Julian S. Carr.

Trinity opens under best auspices. I had the honor of addressing the students and seldom ever saw a superior corps.

Durham is a Methodist metropolis. The Rev. John N. Cole ministers at Trinity, a stately temple with richest finish. The voice reaches with ease the rear pews. The congregation is inspiring. Virginia has contributed clever citizens—the Southgates for instance—what a mellow, royal, noble soul is the venerable father. And equally firm in fibre, the son. I could well believe that the junior filled the eye with a superb presence on the platform as well as charmed the ear.

One Fitzhugh Lee, who was before the Spanish war quite a prominent public figure, but who has long been pressed into Cuban obscurity, it is stated is coming home soon.

Gen. Lee was a foe to McKinley's ambition. He was so much more popular than the president, that the latter got uneasy and sidetracked the accomplished Virginian. He was not allowed to enter the lines of the enemy till others had conquered them, though the nation knew he was the true leader of the army and the one who would seize the complete and the quickest victory. The president realized that there would be no fame for a vacillating star-chamber ruler of the people like himself while there fought in the field a knight in whose veins flowed blood tinged with William's the Conqueror and Robert E. Lee's. So he nipped the threatened danger from his rival in its incipency.

But there is a bright halo of glory and honor even now about the unselfish life of Fitzhugh Lee that McKinley can never attain to in the gilded chair of supreme office with uncounted millions at his beck and call.

PROF. HARRIS' SCHOOL.

We are glad to notice that Prof. W. B. Harris, that polished and courtly educator of Germantown, has recently removed with his family to Danbury, where he has opened up a splendid high school for the youth of both sexes, and that the school has opened with a flattering attendance. Prof. and Mrs. Harris are both able educators, and possess in a high degree the kind of influence the moral, Christian home needs instilled into its youthful members.

Incidentally, there are few spots in the country more conducive to the healthy growth of the mind and body than the little town of Danbury. The moral atmosphere is splendid, there not being a drop of spirituous liquors sold in the county. The society is of the first grade, and the religious advantages splendid.

When the day's studies are over there are no saloons or other places of ill repute to tempt the leisure hours of the boy, but the beautiful, quiet, grand seclusion of the forest invites his echoing shout, or in her still solitude the contemplative mind can hold "sweet converse with nature," or chase the scurrying rabbit. The gentle murmuring Dan invites the bark to repose on its sparkling bosom. There are shady dells to explore, beautiful hills to climb, the pure, fresh air of heaven to breathe, and as beautiful, rugged scenery to sketch or admire, as exists anywhere in the world.

In a word Danbury is an ideal spot for the accumulation of knowledge, and we hope to see Prof. Harris' school grow and expand into great usefulness, and that he and his most excellent wife may be long spared to the glorious cause of education.

AGUINALDO HAS THE UPPER HAND

A Discouraging Report From the Philippines By London.

London, Sept. 30.—The Times publishes this morning long extracts from a private letter from Manila, dated August 21, whose writer asserts that Aguinaldo is getting the best of it; that the Americans are making no practically progress; that Aguinaldo has regained his influence over the villages, and has lately obtained a lot of money with which he is endeavoring to foment disturbances in Manila. "Aguinaldo," says the writer, "offers double the amount of the rewards for American rifles and arms that General Otis offers for Filipino weapons. The result is that the Americans get none of the latter."

The letter ends by calling General Otis "a good intentioned, but sluggish and extremely parsimonious," and attributes the difficulties of the Americans "very largely to this false economy." Manila is well policed, but the officers know it would be useless to ask for more. The hospitals are inadequate staffed, but General Otis declares, according to the writer, that half the men in the hospitals are not sick and that to increase the hospitals would only result in an increase of pretense invalids.

NOTED DIPLOMAT DROWNED.

General Julio Rengillo, Who Married an American Girl.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The Columbian Legion has received an official cablegram from Bogota announcing that General Julio Rengillo, until recently the Colombian representative in Washington and one of the best known South American diplomats, has been drowned in the Magdalena river. It is believed that a number of others were drowned at the same time. General Rengillo left Washington a few months ago and became secretary of the treasury of the Columbian cabinet. While here he was prominent in official and social circles, and married an American girl, Miss Regina Barbour, daughter of the late James Barbour, of this city. Madam Rengillo is now in Washington, having expected to join her husband at Quito next month and is prostrated with the sad intelligence.

WRECK OF THE SCOTSMAN.

Eleven Lives Lost—Sufferings and Final Rescue of the Survivors.

Rimouski, Que., Sept. 29.—The steamer Montfort, carrying 249 of the passengers of the wrecked steamer Scotsman of the Dominion Line, has arrived here, bringing news that eleven of the Scotsman's passengers were drowned.

The wreck occurred at Change Island, eight days ago. The steamer Monterey took off nine steerage passengers and forty five of the crew, and fifty-six second-class and steerage passengers were left on the island. Those drowned and known were:

Mrs. Robertson, wife of the manager of the Sunlight Soap Company, of Montreal; Miss Robertson, her daughter; Mrs. Childs, wife of the manager of the Sign of the Cross Company, which was on board; Miss Street, her companion, of Montreal; Mrs. Dickson, of Windsor, Ont., wife of a former editor of the Toronto Globe; Miss R. Weaver, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Skelton. An infant of Mrs. Robertson, all of Montreal.

The people who were left on the island are now on their way to Liverpool on the steamer Monterey. The Scotsman struck at 2:30 Friday morning last, and the people on board since that time have suffered untold hardships.

The boat struck with such violence that her hull crunched and shivered from bow to stern, and as there was a heavy sea running the officers immediately ordered all the boats out because it was feared the vessel might slip off the sand bank and sink. The women and children were packed into the first available boats, but the sea was so heavy that one of the boats was swamped, and it was due to this that so many women were lost.

As soon as the ship struck, the crew invaded the cabins and sacked all the baggage. They got drunk and held high carnival all night, singing and dancing and insulting the helpless passengers, while the officers were utterly unable to restrain them.

The wrecking steamer Ranger left East Liverpool to aid the Scotsman, and at the request of the local agents here the admiral in charge at Halifax has dispatched a warship from Newfoundland to protect the Scotsman and her cargo from wreckers.

A Wonderful Cure of Diarrhoea.

A prominent Virginia editor had almost given up, but was brought back to perfect health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Read his editorial. From the Times, Hillsdale, Va.

I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back or weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by using Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Silvey May be Pardoned.
Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 29.—It is expected that President McKinley will pardon Walter Silvey, one of the counterfeiters convicted here at the last term of the United States court who is now serving his sentence at the penitentiary in Raleigh. Judge Purcell today notified Silvey's lawyers that he would recommend the petition to be made by numerous citizens for the young man's pardon.

"I can't help feeling out of place here," remarked the young clerk as he received notification of his discharge. The motorman could hardly be classed as unbecomingly because he is averse to running across old acquaintances.

Men do not like to go to doctors. Nine times out of ten they wait until they are laid flat on their backs before they will consult a physician. There is some reason in this, for when a business man feels out of sorts and goes to a physician, he is often given violent drugs that make him, for a time, unfit for business and really sick. There is a way of avoiding both extremes—that of neglecting the health and that of taking violent drugs that rack the entire system—it is always to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If a man will resort to this great medicine whenever he feels that he is out of sorts and threatened with illness, he may keep in good health. It is the great appetite sharpener, blood-maker and flesh-builder. It fills the arteries with the rich, red, tissue-building blood of health. It does not make flabby fat like cod liver oil, but the solid, muscular and nerve tissues of health. It does not make corpulent people more corpulent.

"I want to inform you of a cure effected by Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mrs. Nelson Smith of Mount Vernon, Jefferson Co., Ill. "About six years ago I had grip, ending with bronchitis and consumption. In the spring of 1896 my condition became very serious. I had consumption and I coughed day and night; could not lie down at all. My family doctor said I could not get well. The neighbors came in to see me, and a lady friend recommended Dr. Pierce's medicine so strongly that we immediately sent out and bought six bottles of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription.' After using these medicines, found I was receiving benefit and continued. I weighed 120 lbs. when I commenced taking medicine, now weigh 145 lbs. I sleep well, have a splendid appetite, feel well, and believe I am entirely cured. I am thankful to God and to Dr. Pierce for those wonderful medicines. I want to add that I am a wonder to my neighbors and friends."

GENERAL FITZHUUM LEE.

The Deliant Virginian is Expected Home in a Few Weeks
General Fitzhugh Lee is expected here from Cuba in a few weeks to spend some time. It was generally believed that General Lee would reach here in August, but it seems he has deferred his visit until fall.

The senatorial campaign is now practically ended so far as the contest for the democratic nomination is concerned.

Those interested in arrangements for the launching of the torpedo boat Shubrick hope that General Lee will be induced to participate in the ceremonies. The plan is for him to head the line of parade if he will.

The last occasion when General Lee took part in such a street pageant was on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the Grant monument in New York. His reception then, by the hundreds of thousands of spectators was an ovation. Admiral Dewey is to be pressed to take part in the launching ceremonies. A committal will wait on the distinguished officer and endeavor to prevail upon him to come here—Richmond Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun, 22.

WINE OF CARDUI

HEALTHY OLD AGE.

Wine of Cardui

It is the devout wish of nearly all people to live to a ripe old age. None of us want to die young. This universal desire can be realized if care be taken of the health in early and middle life. A little precaution then will add many years to our existence. Death can be kept away a long time. Happy, healthy old age will be the lot of the woman who promptly corrects the ailments which afflict her sex. In youth, Wine of Cardui will take the female child safely over the dividing line between girlhood and womanhood. As a wife she needs it to help her through the trials of pregnancy and childbirth with as little discomfort as possible. At the Change of Life it will help her over the dangerous place that appears in her pathway between 40 and 50. Then will come many years of truly blissful existence. She will grow old slowly and gracefully. To the last she will preserve that charm and beauty which are always characteristic of perfectly healthy grandmothers.

LADIES' ADVISORY DEPARTMENT.
For advice in cases requiring special treatment, write to the Editor of Wine of Cardui and it will be made another person since taking it.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Rev. F. A. Patter, of Reidsville, was in the city this morning.

B. H. Griffin, proprietor of Hotel Kannon at Goldsboro, was in the city today.

Why drink mud? asks Howard Gardner in his ad today, and we say so too.

The Light Bearers of Centenary church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Benbow hotel property is advertised for sale by Southern Loan & Trust Co. See their ad on first page.

O. D. Boycott, the grain and feed store man, has a new and attractive advertisement in the Telegram today.

Vuncannon & Co. think the Dewey celebration a good thing, but claim it will not satisfy a hungry man. Read their ad today.

Mrs. E. H. Scales, Miss Annie B. Sneed and Mrs. E. B. McKenzie went to Washington today and Miss Irving Scales went to Danville.

Little Miss Glenn Vuncannon has a cat that is a counterpart, in some respects of the lamb which Mary had. It attempts to follow her to school every day.

L. M. Clymer and J. Henry Phipps returned this morning from Roanoke, where they attended the Virginia State Firemen's Association and tournament.

In the rush today of getting out the Telegram in enlarged form, a large and handsome ad for the Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees firm got caught on the front page, and there it is! See what it says.

We take pleasure today in introducing through our advertising columns, the Greensboro Loan and Trust Co. See their ad on this page, note who are its officers and directors, and you will be abundantly satisfied that it is gilt-edged.

Mrs. W. L. Ferrell, who has been visiting Mrs. C. A. Bray for two or three days, left this morning for Durham to visit her husband, who is just recovering from a severe spell of sickness at Watts Hospital. They will move to Winston as soon as Mr. Ferrell is well enough.

Messrs. Bendheim & Sons announce their fall opening on Monday and extend to their friends and the entire public a cordial welcome. They have been receiving during the past ten days immense quantities of new goods, and no doubt will make a very fine display. Be sure and see it.

Rev. Livingston Johnson, pastor of West Washington street Baptist church, is a preacher who is appreciated by his people. At a meeting of the official members on Wednesday night the pastor was surprised by a voluntary raise in his salary. Fitting recognition of the splendid services of a most worthy and zealous man.

A man who violates law ought to suffer the penalty of law; but without inquiring into the merits or demerits of the case against Wilkerson for shooting Jennings, we may be allowed to suggest that as such things are in order, he get his case compromised by paying the cost. The parties were, perhaps, having only a little "friendly" drunk!

TRINITY COLLEGE NOTES.

New Courses in the Departments—The Athletic Grounds.

There are now more students, both graduates and undergraduates, doing advanced work at Trinity this year than ever before. To meet this demand quite a number of courses are being given this year for the first time in nearly all of the departments.

Prof. Merritt is giving a course for graduates, in Homer. Dr. Few is giving a course that deals with English literature from the beginning to the year 1400. It is open only to students who know Anglo-Saxon, German and French. He also gives a new course in Elizabethan drama.

Prof. Mims is giving for the first time a course in the literature of the seventeenth century. Dr. Cranford is giving a new course in Metaphysics. Dr. Bassett gives three new courses in Legal history, French history, and for graduates a course in Grecian history.

Prof. Dowd is giving a new course in sociology. Prof. Flowers a new course in applied mathematics. Prof. Edwards is giving three new courses in experimental physics. Dr. Hanaker is new course in comparative anatomy.

Prof. Durham is giving a new course in the History of Dogma, the Life and Writings of St. Paul, and an Introduction to the Literature of the New Testament. Prof. Durham begins his work as an instructor this year. He graduated at Trinity with the class of '95; he afterwards spent a year in graduate work at Yale and two years at Union Theological Seminary in New York.

Another new instructor is Mr. H. H. Flowers, who last year resigned the superintendency of the Durham graded schools. He graduated with the class of '94 and received the degree of master of arts in 1896. He is this year instructor of German.

Mr. S. S. Dent is at the college for the first time as assistant in English. He is a '97 man, graduating as first honor man of his class. During the last two years he was principal of Morven Academy.

The athletic grounds have been fitted up for playing association football and basket ball. Nearly all of the students take part in one of these games every afternoon.

Dr. Bassett's fourth Monograph in the Johns Hopkins University Studies in Historical and Political Science, has recently been published. The subject is: "Slavery in the State of North Carolina." The character of the work is shown by the following table of contents:

1. Legal status of the slave. 2. Free negroes and emancipation. 3. Religious life. 4. Industrial and social life. 5. The triumph of the pro-slavery sentiment.

Prof. Edwards has gone to Philadelphia to purchase apparatus for fitting up the Crowell science building which has been thoroughly remodelled and in a few weeks will be finely equipped.

Prof. Durham is one of the speakers at the educational rally at Rockingham September 30, under direction of County Superintendent Walsh.

Mr. Geo. P. Pogram, '95, has gone to New York to study science at Columbia University.

Mr. J. Y. Flowers, editor of the Trinity Archive, has selected as his corps of assistants Messrs. J. R. Cowan, R. P. Reade, J. E. Holden, J. M. Culbreth and R. Hebb.

Messrs. J. M. Flowers and S. A. Stewart recently went over to Wake Forest college to make arrangements for the annual debate between Wake Forest and Trinity. The subject decided upon is, Resolved, that the United States senators should be elected by popular vote. Trinity has the affirmative. The debate will be held in Raleigh on Thanksgiving night in the Academy of Music.
